

Ba Be Lake (Bac Kan) on elevation 145 meters above sea level, surrounded by limestone mountains more ancient, dating back 450 million years,

Ba Be Lake is a freshwater lake in 20 of the world particularly needs protection. Apart from the value in terms of landscape and geology, the lake is home to approximately 50 species of freshwater fish.

Babe Lake

Boat on lake

Photo by Huỳnh Thu Dung